

It has been brought to my attention that you are giving the State of Indiana grief over its telephone "no call" list. As one of the names on the "no call" list, I say leave the state alone. My life is so much more peaceful without the scores of telemarketers and solicitors calling my house. I was getting at least twenty to thirty calls per week prior to the no call list. Other states need to take a stronger stand and reclaim their phones.